DENTIST TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF.

Doctor Joseph H. Witfeld Writes
Two Notes to Wife Before Taking Cocaine.

After writing two notes to his wife, from whom, it is said, he is separated, Doctor Joseph H. Witfeld, 25 years old, a dentist, residing at No. 312 Olive street, last night attempted to end his life by taking cocaine. At the City Hospital his condition was pronounced serious.

Witfeld was discovered unconscious by Mrs. Ada Huff, at whose home he boards. She called Patrolman O'Neil of the Eighth District. At the hospital Witfeld refused to give any reason for his attempt to commit suicide.

Before taking the cocaine Witfeld wrote two notes to his wife. One of them, which was written at about 8 o'clock, was as follows:

"Mrs. J. H. Witfeld: Dearest Edith—Forgive me, as I know what I am doing. I am to blame for all I know your value, but I did not know how to gain your love. With it I could live forever; without it, never. Darling, forgive me. Good-bye to yourself and the baby."

The other letter was written one hour later and was as follows: "Good-bye, my darling. Be good to yourself and the baby. Take a fool's advice and when you get some money keep it."

BOARD TO PROBE GAMBLING REPORTS.

President Frye of Police Commissioners Holds Conference With Chief Kiehl.

McGRATH MAY BE WITNESS.

Charge Made That Many Handbooks on the Foreign Races Are Being Run Under Protection.

President William G. Frye of the Board of Police Commissioners and Chief Kiehl held a conference in the latter's office at the Four Courts last night, at which the gambling situation was discussed.

As a result, it is probable that the Police Board will take up the matter at its meeting this afternoon, and inquiry will be made into reports that gambling games are being run in the city.

It is not unlikely that Detective Thomas McGrath, who commands the gambling squad of the Police Department, will appear before the board, as will also several of the men who compose the squad.

Asked what the Police Board would do to suppress gambling in St. Louis, President Frye said: "I do not care to discuss the question. I have given my personal opinion of gambling and will maintain it in the future."

Chief Kiehl declared that gambling is not of the police, and referred to his order to the police to suppress gambling. He said that the views of the members may be of no use to him.

"Will the Police Board take cognizance of the published reports that handbooks are made at certain places, almost openly?" President Frye was asked.

He felt safe in saying that that matter will be taken up by the board. Chief Kiehl declared that gambling is not of the police, and referred to his order to the police to suppress gambling.

Streamers of Alabama smiles, dotted with poppy-colored Japanese lights, spanned the entire arch of the Union Club auditorium last night, on the occasion of the club's annual masquerade ball.

"At intervals pendants of Florida moss hung as if to proclaim a forest primeval."
"Midsummer Night's Dream," with Oberon and Titania and their fairy crew, presented no falter multitude than did the various crowd when it swung into line for the grand march.

The Board of Directors of the club, some in costume and others wearing their badges of office over evening suits, led the march.

They were: William Girardin, president, as Louis XIV, with Joseph A. Butler; Doctor Eugene Haeckel as "King Dodo," with Edgar Mueller; Edward Butler as Napoleon on horseback; William Uhr as Prince Henry, with Doctor J. W. Moore; Dr. Stiefel as "Prince of Pilsen," with Louis Holhaus; Julius Hart as Neptune with Joseph Sameser, and Alfred Huschman as Scarecrow, with Ernest Witter.

All about the ballroom were growing flowers. The boxes, which extended along the rear of the room, were banked with greens, as was the musicians' platform.

On the stage was a field of growing California poppies, interspersed with tufts of "Eulalia Japonica," the redolent Japanese grass, specially imported from Yokohama.

Among the occupants of the boxes were Miss Minnie Busch and a party of friends with Miss Kleinhans of Berlin, Germany, as guest of honor.

Mrs. James P. Newell and Miss Florence Newell, Countess d'Housserville and Mrs.
O. E. Foster.

When the revelry on the floor was at its height there entered a German band, the horns of fantastic shape threw the legiti-mate musicians immediately out of gear.

GERMAN BAND AMUSES.
Around the hall marched the motley band and every one upon the floor soon marched in its train, while persons in the boxes applauded loudly. This quaint and fantastic company was made up of Messrs. F. Biston, leader; Louis Schlossstein and Henry Heussler, big bass horns; Elli Steinwunder and Harry Pfaffrodt, the bass horns; F. Adler and R. Burns, bass drums; F. Burgholt and M. Braun, shawms; A. Nasse and M. Nasse, plo-cunas; O. Blanke and A. H. Feuerbacher, cymbals; R. L. Blanke and M. Feuerbacher, snare drums.

Many dainty costumes were worn by the ladies, some of whom conspired against the men by wearing identical costumes. Of these, three young women, dressed as grizettes, were most successful, and when the Police Board would do to suppress gambling in St. Louis, President Frye said: "I do not care to discuss the question. I have given my personal
opinion of gambling and will maintain it
in the future."

Chief Kiehl declared that gambling is not
of the police, and referred to his order to
the police to suppress gambling. He said that the views of the members may be
of no use to him.

THE EASTER GOWN

Mrs. Osborn, the famous artist of dressmaking, the creator of styles for the smart set of New York, in the March Delineator gives the most important fashion news looking forward to Spring and Summer styles. The planning of every gown, she says, now hinges upon the style of its skirt. No woman should plan her Easter costume without carefully studying this letter. In it she will find the secret of correct dressing told in type and shown in illustrations.

In this issue there are more real helps for the well dressed woman in perfecting her Easter gowns and her Summer clothes than in any other authority. This number alone is worth more to her in the consciousness of being well gowned than the cost of a year's subscription. Besides the skirt Mrs. Osborn tells of collar effects and coats.

GORMAN'S NAVAL POLICY OPPOSED.

House Committee Urges Construction of More Than Usual Number of Cruisers.

Washington, Feb. 11.—In the report of the naval appropriation bill to the House today, by Chairman Foss of the Naval Affairs Committee, the gauntlet thrown down by Senator Gorman in his announced policy of internal improvements in place of naval construction is taken up with vigil.

The report says:
"The committee recommended the construction of more than the usual number of cruisers, in view of the fact that last year we provide for five large battleships. This will give a better proportion to our navy."

"If we judge public sentiment, it is in favor of the continuance of the policy of building up our navy. If we stopped now we would be left behind the leading countries of the world."

"The American will not endorse the policy of sacrificing the American navy for internal improvements, nor is there any question of it."

"Foremost and above all must stand considerations of national defense, maintenance of our foreign policies and protection of American citizens everywhere. The American people are not willing to lessen their influence on this hemisphere, nor forsake their interests on the other."

The appropriation for new ships for the navy, as well as the completion of those now under construction, is dealt with in the report as follows:

"To complete all the ships authorized up to the present time, including their construction and machinery, armor and armament and equipment, will cost $2,718,639, which may be divided as follows:
"Construction and machinery, $1,632,450; armor and armament, $33,788,329; equipment, $40,000."

"Of this sum we appropriate in this bill $19,335,590 for construction and machinery and $12,000,000 for armor and armament, making a total of $31,335,590, which leaves a balance of $6,803,049 to be paid hereafter."

SHIPS AUTHORIZED.
The ships authorized are: One first-class battleship of 16,000 tons, cost $7,775, 600; two first-class armored cruisers of 14,500 tons, cost (each) $6,505,000; three second-class armored cruisers of 10,000 tons, cost (each) $2,500,000; two colliers to be capable of accompanying the battle fleet, to carry 5,000 tons of cargo each, total cost of each to be $2,100,000.

The total cost of the above programme will be $28,835,590.

It is within the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy to build any or all of these ships in Government navy yards or to have them built by private shipbuilding concerns. It would seem almost certainly in the interest of the navy to have the ships built by private concerns, as the cost of building them in the navy yards would be much greater. The navy department is now building ships in the navy yards at a cost of $100,000 per year. An increase of 3,000 men is provided for at a training station on the great lakes is recommended. When this station is completed and the facilities for training men increased, a larger yearly increase will be demanded.

The report gives in detail, illustrated with colored plates, the strength of the various navies of the world. The total amount of the bill is $28,835,590.
